Carter, chairman of the rural urban committee of the West Palm Beach Rotary club, in a letter to President Johnny Thomas of the Pahokee club, has invited members to attend a joint luncheon at the Everglades club in Palm Beach on Thursday, April 2. Women Complete Motor Course

In the future there are 26 women in this area who will know something about the mechanics of an automobile. On Tuesday night of this week those women finished a 10-hour course which was given by J. Elliott at his farm place in Pahokee.

Mr. Elliott in commenting upon the splendid work done by the class said: "These ladies showed great interest in their work. Each one took her instruction seriously and they were better equipped to cope with any situation which may arise when they are driving a motor car."

Pop Lord Named Corps Leader

W. C. "Pop" Lord was recently named commander of the citizens defense corps in Belle Glade. Pop in his new position heads all the action divisions of the Belle Glade Defense Council. (Frank Shaughnessy, president of the Belle Glade Defense Council, has been chosen to fill and should give a good account of himself during the chaotic months to come.)

We Need More County Roads

In the Lake Okechobee Region, the ever increasing agricultural production in this area calls for more roads to market. Some of these roads of this caliber must be constructed. The State Road Commission is now planning to build a road from the south end of the lake to the north end, passing through the area.

Farmers Market Is Dedicated Friday; Big Crowd, Bar-B-Q

Commissioner of Agriculture Mayo Made Dedication Address

In a splendid address last Friday morning at the new state farmers market in Pahokee, N. A. Mayo, state commissioner of agriculture, dedicated the recently erected structure to the agricultural industry of the Lake Okechobee Region. E. H. Hulst, district manager of the Works Projects Administration, in behalf of W. S. Harkness, state administrator, formally presented the federal government's share of the market to Commissioner Mayo, who in turn dedicated it to the industry in this area.

"Very unusual weather—rain and a high wind—greeted the visitors who gathered for the dedication ceremonies. However, before the wind died down and Old Sol peeped from under the clouds. The smell of sizzling barbecue was in the air as the crowd gathered at the close of the dedication ceremonies."

Paul Rardin acted as master of ceremonies for the occasion and presented each guest over the platform's loud speaking system. First to be introduced was W. F. Herkless, director of the Florida Herd. All Florida page in The Miami Herald. Mr. Herkless is well acquainted with the farming industry of the Lake Okechobee region. His well chosen remarks were warmly received by the crowd.

County Agent M. S. Rhoads, state marketing commissioner, was the next speaker and brought an interesting message. W. L. Wilson, state director of markets, in his talk offered high praise to John Dulany, market manager, who has taken great deal of credit for completion of the market. Mr. Wilson has seen the market on several tables where he found one small market to the huge industry it is today. It has been his guidance that state markets have flourished throughout the state.

Miss Julia Mae Sampson, an adolescent from the audience, was introduced to the audience. Following the close of the ceremonies the crowd gathered around the barbecue table where hot pork barbecue was served with all the trimmings.

Friday, February 27 will go down in Lake Okechobee Region history as one of the important days in the agricultural industry, the day on which the Pahokee State Farmers Market was opened to the public.

York, Miss Maxwell and Miss Mary Lou Zander acting as instructors.

Patch Upon Patch

To All Members of the State Road Department, Tallahassee, Fla., and To All Members of the Board of County Commissioners, West Palm Beach, Florida.

Has any one of you inspected the highway between Pahokee and Belle Glade lately? If you have, the citizens of the Lake Okechobee Region and South Florida would be greatly interested to know what you are going to do about the condition of this link of highway.

For your information—in case you haven't inspected it lately—it is almost impossible for trucks (hauling green winter vegetables) to use this road.

One half of the road—next to the canal—is in such a condition that practically all cars and trucks use the other side almost exclusively. The state road patrolmen in this area spends a great deal of time cautioning motorists "to stay on their own side of the road."

Recently workmen of the state road department put on another coat of patching material. And today the entire highway from Pahokee to Belle Glade is nothing but patch upon patch—giving car and truck drivers a highway akin to a corduroy road.

I know that members of the state road board and members of the county commission are always busy men. But, I am sure that some of you can take enough time from your arduous duties to make an inspection trip and report to the higher ups. I realize full well that this link of highway is supposed to be under maintenance by the state road department. However, I feel sure that the few suggestions of our own board of county commissioners and some co-operation by them might bring about a remedy for the situation which prevails as far as this particular piece of highway is concerned.

If any one of you has any good reason for delaying some sort of rebuilding program on this road I will freely grant you space in these columns to tell the people of this community about it.

Defense Council In New Office

The Pahokee Canal Point Defense Council is set up in new offices in the recently completed city hall in Pahokee. Officials of the organization are happy that city councilmen of Pahokee grant the organization space in which to operate.

Scullen Renamed Chamber Head

J. F. Scullen, one of the organizers of the Lake Okechobee Chamber of Commerce and its president since that time, was re-elected to the office of president of the chamber at the annual meeting held last night at the hotel. Lawrence W. Will, Arnold Kirchman, Joe Gold and Julius Harris were named to the board of directors for three years. W. N. Jeffries was chosen again as secretary and treasurer.

THIS ARTICLE LAST WEEK

We Need More County Roads

The editor of this newspaper isn't a farmer but his bread and butter depends directly on the success of the agricultural industry in the Lake Okechobee Region. Naturally, this writer is intensely interested in the betterment of agricultural conditions and all the appearances thereof which tend to make the life of the farmer easier and more profitable.

There is nothing as necessary right now in the Lake Region as more serviceable county roads. Thousands of scores of people are being kept out of the market by the poor condition of the roads. It is a necessity that more and better farm roads be made available for use by those who are producing the vegetables so much needed by an America at war.

We have heard argument on every side that this immediately necessary work is being secured by the right share of county roads—that in proportion to the size of the county, the state is getting more than its share of county roads. Facts and cold blooded figures do not bear out this contention. The state would strangle a growing agricultural industry here on the shores of Lake Okechobee.

It is proportionally true that we plan for the future. If the Lake Region is to become the outstanding vegetable growing area of the country, then it is vitally necessary that we be provided with the farm to market roads which will make marketing of these vegetables possible.

We Need More County Roads

Visitors in the Lake Region have been amazed at the lack of farm to market roads. Some of these visitors have wondered how it is possible for a community to market so much produce when farm to market roads aren't available. The answer is in the fact that the roads are so poor that they are virtually closed to the market.

Pahokee Float Takes Blue Ribbon In Parade At Hollywood Fiesta Tropical

Judges Award Pahokee Creation First Place Among Entrants

According to the fairy story everyone is familiar with, Cinderella rode to fame in her golden chariot, married a Prince and lived happily ever after. The Queen of Pahokee rode to fame, with her ladies-in-waiting, in the float which she created for the Hollywood, Florida, night, Feb. 27th, for the seventh annual Fiesta Tropical.

Her chariot was a beautiful lemon yellow float, forty feet in length with a huge "horn of plenty" running down the center, from the mouth of which spouted all the choicest fruits grown in the Lake Okechobee region. Cabbage, peas, beans, pepper, corn, celery poured forth from the mouth of the chariot.

Annual Banquet Of Future Farmers Is A Grand Success

Nathan Mayo, Commissioner Of Agriculture, Is Featured Speaker

The annual banquet of the Pahokee State Sugar Corporation and the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad was held at the school cafeteria last Friday night. It was one of the most successful of its kind ever held in the area, according to those who were in attendance.

Nathan Mayo, state commissioner of agriculture, was the featured speaker and delivered one of his usual interesting addresses. The invitation was given by Mr. J. Statham, pastor of the Pahokee Methodist church. Monroe Pope acted as master of ceremonies. The address of the state director was delivered by John Harrington, Jr. and the response was given by his father, John Harrington, Sr.

Claude Jones, state president of the FFA chapters, made an interesting talk on the "Accomplishments of the Pahokee Sugar Corporation." He also spoke briefly of the state's sugar industry.

The Florida East Coast Railway and the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Thursday took over transportation of the cane for the sugarhouse of the United States Sugar Corporation.

Since its organization, the United States Sugar Corporation and its predecessor, the Southern Sugar Company, transported sugar cane over the railroad's main lines. The cane is planted in the Lake Okechobee, from Canal Point on the East to Benbow, near Moore Haven, on the West. It covers seven locomotives and several hundreds of cane cars, employed during the grinding season, and the cane is transported in shifts, the railroads supplying pilots only.
